

A new Bilingual Photography Directory website is launched

dirophoto.com provides links to thousands of photography sites in Arabic and English

The Leading Arabic Photography "Friends Of Light" group (www.friendsoflight.com) has just launched a related website providing links to thousands of photography websites around the world, categorized and sorted with both Arabic and English description of the websites.

The website is www.dirophoto.com , as in DIRectory Of PHOTOGraphy was received well by enthusiasts, and submission to the directory is free, and a translation to Arabic is provided by the directory staff.

The group is planning to provide other services to serve Arabic speaking community with information related to photography.
